

Olga obtained her musical education at the Solomiya Krushelnytska, school for gifted children in the Lviv Lysenko National Conservatory of Music and graduated from the Lviv Academy of Music. She took up her postgraduate studies at the Kiev Conservatory in 1986 under prof.V.V.Seckin and prof.A.M.Snegirjov. Olga was a student and achieved remarkable success at all levels of her studies.

Her pedagogical career began at the Lviv Academy of Music, where she served as a professor of piano in the piano department from 1986 to 1998 and attained significant results at many national competitions.

Invited by Senad Gacevic, dean of the Cetinje Music Academy, Olga moved to Cetinje in 1998 where she continued her concert and pedagogical career as a professor of piano at the Academy of Music and at the secondary music school in Kotor.

Since 2002, she has been professor of piano at the Isidor Bajic music school. Olga has intensively participated in competitions and concerts which is a great contribution to her biography. Olga and her students are winners of numerous prizes and awards at many national and international competitions. Her graduates go on to continue their education and advance their studies at music academies in the country and abroad.

Together with her students Olga participated in the First, Second, Third and Fourth Isidor Bajic Piano Memorial as a part of the Piano-Pedagogy forum and at the Isidor Bajic competition of pianists. The outcome of this kind of engagement was the invitation to teach at "Yale Masterclass".

She has extensively performed as a soloist and has also collaborated with many orchestras conducted by eminent conductors from Ukraine and Europe (D.Kabalevski, R.Filipcuk, D.Pelehatoj, I.Simovic, B.Gnjedas, I.Kolesij, I.Juzuk, F.Albanezi). She performed at festivals in Podgorica, Kotor, Herceg Novi, Tivat, Bar, Novi Sad.

Olga was a member of the jury at national competitions in Serbia and Montenegro, and at many international competitions including Petar Konjovic, Slobomir (Bijeljina), etc.

She is a member of the "UKLAPEV" association of piano pedagogues of Vojvodina and "EPTA" European Piano Teachers Association.
